ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The successful completion of this thesis has been achieved with invaluable support, contributions, suggestions and guidance from a number of people who are working in various institutions. As the author, I would like to express my deepest gratitude, highest appreciation and sincere thanks as follows:

First of all, I would like to acknowledge to McKNIGHT Foundation for financial support and Cambodian Agricultural Research and Development Institute (CARDI) for their giving the appropriate opportunity to study for knowledge improving.

I would like to express very special thanks to Associate Professor Dr. Sansanee Jamjod, my academic advisor, who kindly devoted her intellectual and academic guidance that steered my proposal writing and thesis work.

Also I am deeply grateful to Professor Dr. Benjavan Rerkasem, a committee member for providing me with continuous support during the long process of this research.

Dr. Natchanaphong Vongburi, an external committee member who is Director of Chainat Field Crop Research Center. He provided challenging and valuable comments regarding my research results.

At the Faculty of Agriculture, I would like to thank all respectful professors and lecturers for provided fantastic lectures and moral support. Many thanks go to Department of Plant Science and Natural Resources' staff who offered kind assistance during my stay in Chiang Mai. And great thanks go to the CMUPN*Lab*, Faculty of Agriculture for helping me use sufficient equipment for my research, and to all the CMUPN*Lab* staff, especially, Miss. Tonapha, Ms. Sunisa, Mr. Ekkasit, Mr. Prateep and Anupong, for sharing their experiences of research and thesis writing.

Special thanks to Dr. Men Sarom, Dr. Ouk Makara, and Ms. Sakhan Sophany Vice rector of Royal University of Agriculture, General Director, and Plant Breeding Office's Head of CARDI for providing me with many good comments, suggestions, and encouragement. Great thanks to Mr. Heang Dany, Graduate Student PhD's Course at the Chiba University, Japan; for always helped and encouraged me to study in the MSc. program. I also thanks go to all the CARDI's staff, especially, Plant breeding staffs for sharing friendship.

Many thanks also go to my friendly classmates, Cambodian friends and other friends, particularly Layheng, Da, Singty, Khamla, Vilaphong, Fee, Soe, Poch, Muny, Kano, Mountha, Siphath, Dyna, Chantha, Peou, Virak, Prem, Sokhom, Phear, Sokha, and others for sharing friendship and a social environment during stay in Chiang Mai.

Finally, I would like to express my grateful thanks to my family. Special thanks go to my loving parent, Mr. Leng Songheng, and my mom Mrs. Sim Huong, for inspiring me with love and care. Great thanks go to my parent in-laws, Mr. Suon Pich and Mrs. Ngin Thearvy, for motivating me and taking good care of my wife and my two sons while I was away from them. Great credit must to be given to my lovely wife, Ms. Suon Sopheap and my two sons Leng Taing Chhayly and Leng Sen Rithy, who has granted me with moral support, encouragement and great care during my study period. I also thank my brother/sister and brother/sister in-laws for their loving support and care.
