ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

In undertaking this participatory action research and writing this thesis, I have been encouraged and assisted by many people.

I am grateful to Assoc. Prof. Dr. Avorn Opatpatanakit, my advisor, who has provided valuable comments on this thesis and has created the atmosphere which allowed me to develop my confidence in researching and thesis writing. She has shown great patience and generosity in reading all the drafts and editing them. Her knowledge and insight has enriched this thesis through her constructive critique. Assoc. Prof. Dr. Suraphol Sreshthaputra and Assoc. Prof. Rampaipun Pichatpongchai, also associate co-advisor, helped me immensely, particularly. Their passionate understanding has enabled me to keep going.

I would like to thank all members of the dried longan small and micro community network group in Amphur Muang, Lamphun Province Thailand who shared the commitment and actively collaborated for betterment. The following members deserve special mention for active collaboration from Department of Agricultural Extension: Sripun Pinkumpichai, Panee Bunyaguergul, Arena Pichaiwat and members of Network: Narachai Rimcham, Piyaporn Sompong, Saitong Krabkate, Thanyatorn Pingkasun, Darunee Oupanan, and Kanyarat Phompanut worked as the research core team and showed great patience and friendship.

I would like to thank my first 'facilitators', my mother Mae-Muang and my brother, Teeraphap, for their tremendous encouragement, love and support. Last, I sincerely thank my Boss, Bumrung Sungsawang who gave constant support to me during my period of candidacy.

Prayard Manopasao
