ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I wish to express my sincere gratitude to my kind and generous advisor, Assistant Professor Dhirawat Jotikasthira, for his initiation and assistance during all phases of my study.

Many thanks to :

Faculty of Agriculture, Chiang Mai University for helpful recommendation and permission on using the Instron testing machine.

Lecturer Sermsuk Buochareon, Head of Metal Technology Division, Rajamangala Institute of Technology, Northern Campus for designing the testing instrument.

Faculty of Science, Chiang Mai University for preparing the acid solution.

Community Dentistry Department, Faculty of Dentistry, Chiang Mai University for suggestion and fluoride solution testing.

Ormco Company, Thailand, for supporting the adhesive used in this study.

I am also wish to extend my thanks to all of the staff members of Orthodontic Department, Faculty of Dentistry, Chiang Mai University for their assistances from the beginning to the end of my studies.

Finally, I wish the success of this research will belong to my lovely wife and son, whose strengths support my spirit and morale to finish this research.
